Baras' Babble:

Holland's Landing was a great trip as usual and it was a great family turn out, with all the boat having at least one child on board. Even the little bloke who crept off to bed at 7:00 p.m. Saturday night, seemed to come good by Sunday morning and managed to catch a few beauties. It was great to see the Bream biting better than ever this year, And I am sure there will be a lot of big (and little people) looking forward to next years comp.
